NEW YORK CITY—September 5, 2019—Glamour editor in chief Samantha Barry today announced details for the brand’s 29th Women of the Year Awards and Summit. The annual event will feature an all-star lineup of women who embody this year’s “Go Big” theme, not just through their own actions, but in their ability to inspire and encourage the women around them. For her second year overseeing the awards, Barry is returning the annual celebration into a two-day event on November 10 and 11 at Lincoln Center’s Alice Tully Hall in New York City. The summit will feature conversations in the morning, a networking cocktail hour for participants, and an afternoon of diverse experiences. Glamour’s annual Women of the Year Awards black-tie ceremony will follow on Monday evening.

“At Glamour we’ve spent the past year celebrating women of substance with something to say. We celebrate women who are making a difference, who are bringing energy beyond one particular moment, and who are generating a full-on movement,” Barry says. “These are women who aren’t afraid to go big. As we put together our summit lineup this year, we just knew we wanted to bring those voices, that go-big energy, to life.”
